INJURIES' FATAL FOR HENRY WERTZ

Timber Buyer For Reynolds Manufacturing Co., Dies 3 Hours After Crossing Accident

RUNS INTO C. I. & W. TRAIN

Machine Hurlled Against Main Street Flagman's Shanty—Apparently Didn't See Signal

Henry Wertz, age 54 years a timber buyer for the Reynolds Manufacturing Company of this city, died at the Dr. Sexton hospital last night about 10:30, having been fatally injured when his automobile ran into the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western passenger train about 5:25 last evening at the Main street crossing.

Mr. Wertz was the sole occupant of the Sedan touring car, which is regarded as a fortunate thing, as the machine was almost a total wreck. He was driving his machine south in Main street, coming down the hill, and either failed to see the crossing watchman in time to slack his speed, or else slid his machine on the icy pavement into the engine.

The pilot of the engine threw the machine against the flagman's shanty, and in some miraculous manner, Wertz was found within the shanty, in an unconscious condition. The machine was thrown upon the sidewalk along Fourth street.

The injured man was carried into a physician's office nearby, and later removed to the hospital, where an examination was held, and it is thought that he died of internal injuries and from a wound inflicted near the base of his skull.

The train was said to be running slowly, although it was twenty minutes late, and it stopped within the length of itself. According to James Goodbar, crossing watchman, Wertz came down the hill very fast.

Mr. Goodbar stated that many machines come down the hill and turn abruptly to the right or left, and he expected Wertz to do the same, and when he saw him coming straight, he yelled at him, but it was too late, and the crash followed.

Miss Martha Winkenhof, 410 North Morgan street, violinist at the Princess theater, was an eye witness to the accident, as was Fred Gale, 801 North Perkins street.

Miss Winkenhof stated that as she came to the corner she noticed the watchman at Morgan street, but said that the Main street flagman was not out of his shanty, and that he came out only as the train was close at hand.

John Ringerberg was also said to have been in the shanty, and stepped out just a few seconds before the accident happened, or he too would have probably been killed instantly.

TO OUST FARM HAND Rue Miller Sues Roy Hartwell for Possession of House

Rue Miller has filed suit in circuit court against Roy Hartwell on a complaint for possession of real estate and $50 judgment for its retention. The plaintiff maintains that Hartwell was employed as a farm hand, and in a written contract sets out that he was to have free rent while working for the plaintiff. The complaint alleges that the two have dissolved their contract and that the defendant still occupies the tenant house, and it is for this reason that the suit was brought.

Clyde Wilson has filed a suit for guardian, against Irma W. Mitchell, age 78 years, whom he alleges is a person not capable of managing her own affairs.

REVIVAL FOR ALL WHO ONCE LIVED

Dr. Munhall Says Evangelism is Needed For Those Who Have Become Spiritually Inert

2ND M. E. REVIVAL SERVICE

Church Which Does Not Hold Evangelistic Meetings is Not Alive To Its Mission

Declaring that revivals are for the world-conformed churches as well as people who have become spiritually inert, Dr. L. W. Munhall spoke Friday night at the second of the series of evangelistic meetings at St. Paul's M. E. church on "Revivals and Evangelism."

The meeting was more largely attended than the opening one Thursday, it was reported, and the interest was better. The opening exercises were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. C. S. Black. Dr. J. M. Walker, the district superintendent, offered the opening prayer.

After announcing that there would be no services on Saturday but four on Sunday at 10:30 a. m., 2:00, 3:00 and 7:00 p. m., and explaining some matters relating to plans and organizations of the campaign, Dr. Munhall proceeded to address the audience.

"Revivals," he declared, "are for the church, for folks who were once alive, but had lapsed become spiritually inert—out of communion with the source of life and power, having the form but without the power. When such repent to do their first works and thereby get back into fellowship with God, they are revived. Members of the church who once were active in the service of their Lord and Master, who now are indifferent in any degree, to the claims of God and the church upon them, as seen in their neglect of the means of grace, absence from the prayer meeting and the table of the Lord, and apparent unconcern for the salvation of the lost and the welfare of the church, all such need a reviving, and a revival is for them."

"Evangelizing is for unsaved people. It is the proclamation of the Gospel of the Grace of God to all unsaved souls. That is the supreme work of the church, going into all the world, with the Gospel message, making disciples and baptizing them into the fellowship of the church—into the byways and hedges, the lanes, the maimed, the blind, the lame—with the message of life and hope that the lost may be saved—that is evangelism."

"The church will not do this if conformed to the follies, fads and fashions of the world, and unalive to the value and importance of her mission. Nine-tenths of the difficulties in the way of reaching the unsaved and getting them to attend our church services disappear when the church is revived. There is nothing in a dead formal world-conforming church to attract unsaved people to its services."

DENIES THEFT OF AN ABANDONED CAR

Hascall Clegg, 21, of Morristown, in Jail For Receiving Stolen Goods, Pleads Not Guilty

BOND IS FIXED AT $1,000

Conrad Ostiermeyer of Cumberland Claims Car Which Clegg Admits He Abandoned Here

Hascall Clegg, age 21 years, whose home is in Morristown and Arlington, is in jail here on a charge of receiving stolen property, and when arraigned this morning before Judge Sparks in the circuit court, entered a plea of not guilty, and will go on trial next Friday.

His bond has been fixed at $1,000 which was not provided today, but was expected to be before night.

Clegg is said to have abandoned an automobile on the New Salem road, south of New Salem, on Wednesday, and was seen by four people leaving the machine along the roadside. The machine was owned by Conrad Ostiermeyer of Cumberland, Marion county, who came here today to get it.

Mr. Ostiermeyer stated that his machine was stolen Tuesday night. Clegg was arrested yesterday afternoon in Morristown by Sheriff Jones and brought here and placed in jail.

He told a conflicting story, according to Prosecutor Stevens. He stated that he left Connersville on Wednesday morning for Rushville, and was approached by an unknown man near the Grand hotel, who had the automobile.

Clegg stated that the man wanted him to drive the car to Laurel, and agreed to pay him $2.00. According to Clegg, he drove the machine with the unknown man as a passenger, to Laurel, and was paid the money, and told to bring the machine on back to Rushville and leave it near the hotel.

According to Clegg, he started back, and the other side of New Salem the machine balked, and he left it there.

Sheriff Jones was notified by the people in that vicinity that a machine had been abandoned, and a sale advertisement from a Greenfield firm gave a clue as to the approximate location of the owner, and Ostiermeyer was summoned to claim the machine, which he did.

At first a charge of vehicle taking was placed against Clegg, but as there was not evidence that he had stolen the machine, a charge of receiving stolen goods was then placed against him today.

Clegg has been working near Arlington on the state highway, as a truck driver, and is married, being the son-in-law of Mr. Wicker, town marshal at Morristown.

WOMAN BREAKS FAST LASTING FOR 48 DAYS

Mrs. Sadie Harrington Takes Food When Minister Calls at Her Danville Home Today

HUSBAND STILL UNREPENTANT

Danville, Ill., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Sadie Harrington broke her fasting today after abstaining from food for 48 days following a two hours conference with the Rev. G. S. Payne.

"I am ready for breakfast," she said after the Rev. Mr. Payne had won the victory, for Mrs. Harrington, after she had been trying to get her husband to join the Church of God. Harrington, a local butcher, is still unrepentant, declaring the ten commandments and the golden rule is his religion.

The Rev. Mr. Payne informed Mrs. Adda Pearce, the nurse, to bring a cup of milk which Mrs. Harrington immediately drank. The Rev. Mr. Payne watched her closely to see if the milk could be retained on her stomach.

"Mrs. Harrington was very gentle and submissive throughout my conference with her and showed a wonderful spirit," the minister stated. She volunteered to break the fast without any definite request by the Rev. Mr. Payne.

SEES A BREAK IN THE GRAIN STRIKE

David Fagron Says That Farmers Must Sell, Pay His Debts And Spend His Money

BOARD OF TRADE'S OPINION

Effort of Producers to Hold Wheat and Force Prices Higher is Losing Ground

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 15.—A strike of farmers against marketing wheat in an effort to force higher prices is starting to break, in the view of financial grain dealers and others in touch with the situation, given to the United Press today.

The real magnitude of the strike was brought home to grain dealers today when an announcement by the Chicago Board of Trade statistician that 50,000,000 less bushels of wheat passed through Chicago in 1920 compared with the year previous.

In 1919 the figures showed 79,927,000 bushels passed through Chicago channels while in the year just ended only 29,977,000 bushels were handled.

"The visible supply" of wheat, on January 1, 1921, was 43,063,000 bushels compared with 75,363,000 bushels a year ago. The "visible supply" is the amount actually held in the grain market centers, therefore the farmers' strike will decrease the market nearly 50 percent.

The special efforts of the strikers are given as being largely responsible for the tight money conditions and the general industrial depression by David Fagron, president of the National City Bank.

"Farmers borrowed million of dollars from their bankers a year ago to finance this year's crop. When prices fell and they refused to sell, farmers were unable to repay the loans or pay other debts and bankers lost part of their money."

"Funds which would have been used in developing and carrying on other business were held by farmers and caused tight money until the farmers began to liquidate."

"The whole order of events were halted when farmers refused to sell, Fagron stated. "Agriculture is the fundamental basic industry which one-half of the people of the county depend upon for a living."

"Before business can become normal the farmers must do three things. He must sell. He must pay what he owes his banker and his other debt and he must buy."

"Liquidation begins with him and passes up along the line."

MISTAKES MADE IN DEDUCTIONS

Deductions For Business Expenses Are Principal Deductions Allowed in Income Tax Returns

MANY ERRONEOUS CLAIMS

Allowable Deductions Include Losses Sustained by Taxpayer in a Profit Transaction

Many errors in the deductions allowed taxpayers are found in the income tax returns. Deductible items are omitted and other items which are not deductible are included. Deductions for business expenses are the principal deductions allowed, the law expressly prohibiting deductions for personal, living, or family expenses.

The revenue act provides that in computing net income there shall be allowed as deductions from gross income all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred in the taxable year in carrying on any trade, business, profession, or vocation. Typical expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks and other employees, rent, light, heat and water, telephone, insurance, delivery expenses, the cost of operating delivery wagons and motor trucks, and incidental repairs to such vehicles. The expenses of a manufacturing business include labor, raw materials, supplies, repairs, light and heat, power, selling cost, administration, and similar charges.

A professional man may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used by him in his practice, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies and subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, the expense of fuel, light, water, and telephone used in such offices, and the hire of assistants.

A traveling man, working on salary or commission, is allowed to deduct certain business expenses. Reasonable and necessary traveling expenses, such as railroad fares and meals and lodging. A traveling man working on salary without reimbursement for traveling expenses, or employed on a commission basis with no expense allowance, may deduct his expenses for railroad fare, and also his expenses for meals and lodging in an amount in excess of the ordinary cost for such living expenses at home.

If he receives a salary and is repaid his actual traveling expenses he must include as gross income an

BILL CREATES A NEW DISTRICT FOR TAXING

Measure in State Senate Allows Municipalities to Borrow up to Constitutional Limit

WOULD APPLY TO RUSHVILLE

A bill which will be reported favorably in the senate, at the annual session of the Indiana legislature, according to word from Indianapolis today, provides that cities having municipal utilities may create a new taxing district to enable the utility to borrow money up to the two percent constitutional indebtedness limit.

This measure is intended primarily to apply to the city of Washington, Ind., which has been compelled to construct a new municipal plant and is prevented from completing the project because the city has about absorbed its borrowing power.

The bill is of interest, however, to all cities in Indiana having municipal utilities, such as Rushville, as the measure would apply to all cities. An amendment to be proposed by the committee will exclude Indianapolis from the provisions of the bill.

The establishment of the city utility taxing district in any city, the bill provides, will require a petition signed by at least 30 per cent of the voters of the city.

IS A PRACTICAL FARMER

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15—Representative Ray C. Morgan of Knightstown will have enough work to keep him busy every minute of the present session of the legislature. Speaker of the House, McClure, appointed Morgan to membership on thirteen committees.

One of these alone, that of the ways and means committee, is enough to occupy most of his attention. And then these committees will also depend on his presence: Public Morals, Roads, Congressional apportionment, Drains and Dykes, Education, Fees and Salaries, Public Expenditures, Swamp Lands, Trust Funds, Enrolled Bills and the committee on Soldiers.

or both installments will become delinquent and subject to a penalty.

The Second Installment must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1921

No tax receipts will be held out until taxes are paid in full.

Extracts From the Statutes of Indiana.

That each person or taxpayer charged with taxes on a duplicate in the hands of a County Treasurer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the first Monday in May, or may at his option, pay one-half thereof on or before the first Monday in May, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November, in the manner prescribed by law. All road taxes to be added to the first installment.

When the first installment is not paid prior to the first Monday in May, the taxes for the whole year become delinquent. The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on Delinquent Taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Persons owing delinquent taxes should pay them at once. The late law is of such character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property.

The owner of the property on the first day of March in any year, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes of that year. The purchaser of property on the first day of March shall be considered as owner on that day.—Sec. 103.

All property, both personal and real, situated in any county shall be liable for the taxes, penalties, interests, and costs to the owners thereof, in such county, and no partial payment of such taxes, penalties, interests or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid; which lien shall in no wise be affected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property.—Sec. 644, R. S.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the penalty on taxes allowed to go delinquent. No County Order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes and all parties are warned against buying the same.

The Annual Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1921.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

TAXPAYERS SHOULD EXAMINE THEIR RECEIPTS before leaving the Treasurer's office and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one township, must see that they have a receipt for all.

Treasurer of Rush County.

FIRST BIRTHDAY OF LEAGUE JAN. 16

On That Day a Year Ago The First Meeting of The Council Was Held at Paris

NOW HAS 49 MEMBERS

Is Situated in a Home in Geneva Where Staff of General Secretariat Occupies 175 Rooms

(Written for United Press)
Geneva, Jan. 15.—The first birthday anniversary of the League of Nations occurs Sunday, January 16. On that day a year ago the first meeting of the Council was held at Paris and the formal organization of the League effected. The intervening twelve months have been much troubled by echoes of the great war and by the feverish efforts of the world to reach some sort of new equilibrium. The handicap thus placed on the first attempt at a world wide international organization has been tremendous.

A year ago the League had twenty-three declared members. Today it has forty-nine, Nicaragua and Honduras having completed their ratifications, while the forty-one delegations comprising the Assembly were still in session at Geneva, where six new members were granted admission, two of them being former enemy states.

The present membership of the League represents an estimated total of 1,247,000,000 to which can be added another 12,000,000 people living in mandatory territories. Eleven more states, with a total population of 44,000,000 have applied for membership, leaving a total of only 361,000,000 people wholly outside.

One year ago the League machinery consisted of the Council and an incipient Secretariat with insufficient temporary quarters at London. Today the League has a home of its own in this city, where the staff of the General Secretariat, consisting of several hundred people from a score of countries, occupies 175 rooms, while a nearby building has 8 more rooms used for committee meetings and as offices for the various member states.

About sixty international treaties have been registered by a score of nations under the Covenant provision for open diplomacy. Partly through the labors of the Secretariat and partly through a number of international conferences held under the auspices of the League, most of the subsidiary or auxiliary organizations prescribed by the Covenant have been brought into existence.

The first steps have been taken toward the creation of a Permanent International Court with extensive judicial powers.

The first official International Labor Organization has become a reality.

Permanent or provisional commissions have been established to deal with the problem of disarmament; with the control of authority granted to mandatory powers; with the use of the economic blockade against violators of the world's peace; with the reorganization of the world's finances; with questions of public health, and with the protection and co-ordination of international communications.

The League has provided a government for the Saar territory and has engineered the establishment of Danzig as a free city.

It has undertaken to settle the dispute between Sweden and Finland about the Aaland Islands, and it has managed in the face of great difficulties to maintain a truce between Poland and Lithuania that gives hope of a peaceful settlement.

It is now gathering an armed international force drawn from eight countries to police the Vilna district while a civil commission of its appointment supervises a plebiscite to determine the final disposal of that region.

With the assistance of the League and under its direction, more than 290,000 war prisoners have been restored to their native countries some of them being brought halfway around the world for that purpose. A systematic campaign has been inaugurated against the epidemics ravaging Central Europe.

amount equal to the ordinary expense for meals and lodging when at home, as such amount is held to be additional compensation to the taxpayer. Payment for the use of a sample room for the display of goods is a business expense.

The farmer may deduct all amounts paid in the production, harvesting, and marketing of crops including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling), fences, and machinery, and of small tools which are used up in the course of the year.

Taxpayers frequently make the mistake of claiming as deduction expenditures for articles more or less permanent in character or for permanent improvement of their property. In the case of the business man they include claims for the erection of new buildings or installation of machinery. A farmer claims as a deduction the cost of a new thrashing machine or tractor, or the expense of putting a new roof on his barn. Such deductions are expressly disallowed by the revenue act, and are held to be investments of capital.

Allowable deductions, in addition to business expenses, include losses sustained by the taxpayer in any transaction entered into for profits outside of his regular business.

A reasonable allowance is made for depreciation of business property, including obsolescence, and for the depletion of oil and gas and other natural deposits.

Contributions made during the year 1920 to corporations organized exclusively for charitable, scientific, religious, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, or the special fund for vocational rehabilitation may be deducted to an amount not exceeding 15 per cent of the taxpayer's income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

Other items which may be deducted are as follows:

Taxes paid or accrued during the year 1920, except income, war profits, or excess profits taxes, and those assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to improve the value of the taxpayer's property.

Losses of property not connected with trade or business arising from fires, or other casualty, or from theft, if not compensated for by insurance.

Debts ascertained to be worthless and charged off within the year 1920.

Interest paid or accrued on indebtedness, except interest incurred to purchase securities (other than securities of the United States issued subsequent to Sept. 24, 1917), the interest on which is exempt from tax.

as the shanty was badly damaged and moved from its foundation.

W. F. Easley, proprietor of the Princess theater was among the first persons to reach the wounded man, and he carried him out of the shanty, which soon caught fire from the stove. The chemical truck from the fire station was called and the flames were quickly extinguished.

Mr. Wertz came here just a little over a year ago to take up the work at the local factory. His home place was in Edinburgh, and the remains will be sent to that city Sunday afternoon. Friends may call at the late residence, 3 of a mile west of Rushville any time up until noon Sunday.

The deceased is survived by a widow and three daughters, who are Mrs. Roy Amos of Edinburgh, where the funeral services will be held either Monday or Tuesday; Mrs. Claude Conover of Lewis Creek, and Mrs. Kenneth Harkless of Dato, Fla.

Mr. Wertz belonged to the Masonic order at Edinburgh, the Knights of Pythias at Flatrock and the Odd Fellows at Lewis Creek.

Public Utilities

When a man boards an interurban car he expects to arrive at a given destination at a given time. If it is late he swears under his breath. If the lights go out while he is in the midst of a very interesting story, he fumes and fusses, and says a few mean things about the corporations and trusts.

He goes through the usual program when he gets agitated without giving the question any thought. If he is a business man or has ever had any experience whatever in business transactions, he should know that the interurban company regrets as much as he that the train was late; that the lights went out, or that the car was stalled in the country on a cold night.

The officers of the corporation which controls that particular interurban line want to give the best service it is possible for them to offer because they know that service makes patronage. The average person never gets the other fellows viewpoint—that service is the key word to success, especially in the case of the public utility. They do not realize that it is to the interest of the public service corporation to please its customers.

This was one of the subjects discussed at the annual meeting of the Indiana Public Utility association in Indianapolis Thursday—the relations between the public service corporation and its patrons and how to get their position clearly before the people they seek to serve.

The age when the public utility adopted the "public-be-hanged" policy has passed. Public utility men nowadays know that they must cater to their customers and that the only way to win them is by serving them better. It is their problem to make their customers understand what their aims really are.

Philip H. Gadsden of Philadelphia president of the American Electric Railway association, who was one of the speakers at the meeting, got at the very heart of the solution with his simple slogan, "Be frank and advertise."

The public utilities have woefully neglected the publicity end of their business. They have failed to realize the value of the printed word; that they can put their message before the people where they will see it. They have not awakened to the fact that their customers could probably be convinced they are doing all in their power to serve them if the proper effort were made.

But the public service corporations have an alibi. They are the one class of corporation which is regulated and the kind of regulation which we have had in the last decade has placed them in the position where their securities will not sell and they are sadly in need of funds. They are not allowed to earn over seven or eight percent in their investments, and their plight has been so precarious, especially since 1915, that investors will not risk any money on them.

The sooner consumers begin to study their public utilities and the sooner the utilities themselves make an honest effort to combat the common attitude toward their business, just that much sooner will their difference be ironed out. The one way for them to reach the public eye is through advertising, and the announcement at the state meeting that several of the national associations of public service corporations, are arranging an extensive advertising campaign, indicates that a new era may be approaching.

If the railroads which plan to sue the government for damages, make no more headway than the firms which are trying to settle their war contracts, they may as well save themselves the trouble of bringing suit.

Drop in price of calico does not interest the girls much, but they are profoundly stirred by the news that fur coats have come down from $700.00 to $598.00.

A great many people who sit in stuffed office chairs, are issuing advice to others to go back to the land and do hard muscular work digging in the dirt.

And still, we can hardly expect all of Europe to flock to this country. Government officials do not willingly quit as long as there's a payroll in sight.

Americans are frantically grasping at the olive branch Mexico is holding out to us. It smells strongly of booze.

Successful men invariably look the part. So does the tramp.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15—Many cities and towns will watch the course of senate bill No. 21, introduced by Senator Ratts. This is a measure understood to have been brought to the session by Ex-Senator Ezra Mattingly, now city attorney of Washington, Davies County, and is designed primarily to enable cities and towns owning public utilities to solve certain large problems of financing betterments and enlargements in such utility plants. Washington's own case is an example, but it is said by friends of the proposed law that several other cities and towns are so situated as to feel the need for this enabling legislation. Indianapolis, it may be said is left out of the bill. At the same time it is apparent that those back of the measure have gone to the acts passed in recent years on behalf of the capital city and have drawn therefrom some measure of inspiration and encouragement, as well as legal justification.

In 1881 a constitutional amendment fixed a restrictive limit upon the ability of Indiana cities to go into debt. It was provided that the bonded debt of the city must not rise beyond a sum equal 2 percent of the total of taxables in the community concerned. The effect of this constitutional provision, whatever its original intent, has been to discourage municipal ownership of public utilities in Indiana.

There came a time when cities developed on lines not perhaps contemplated by the prophets and statesmen of 1881. What with modern sanitary systems, street improvements and other essential expenditures of the later-day city, including wise and proper educational facilities, the 2 percent limit on the bonded indebtedness of the city became a serious and irksome deterrent—an obstacle in the path of honest progress.

There was stiff opposition when a new constitution was urged to take the place of the 1851 document. With its 1881 amendments. Yet the vital matter of school development pressed so vigorously and convincingly that it became necessary to find a way out for the schools. Adequate facilities could not be provided for the schools system within the 2 percent debt limit fixed by basic law upon the cities. Indianapolis was hampered and the situation was desperate.

It was the late Gen. Benj. Harrison who argued before the Indiana

Supreme Court to the effect that the School City was a corporation separate from the Civil City, and in itself and for itself entitled to expend for the schools a sum equal to 2 percent of the total of taxables in the School City. Now, of course, the School City and the Civil City are one and the same physically, and in the matter of taxables. Yet the court agreed that the School City and the Civil City were separate corporations, each enabled to go into debt up to 2 percent of the total valuation for taxation in the city. This meant, of course, that it was possible under the decision to issue bonds up to 4 percent of the total valuation for taxation.

One of the things that made this radical step necessary on behalf of the schools was the fact that tax valuations were habitually set so low that the 2 percent set by the 1881 amendment actually meant that cities were allowed to go into debt only up to practically one percent of the actual taxables, as fully half those values never got on the tax books at all.

Indianapolis, in time of local need seized upon the decision in the School City case to show that a similar ruling ought to be made in favor of creating a new taxing unit which might levy special taxes and create new indebtedness for the erection of a park and boulevard system of large scope and of undoubted value and merit. Without special legislation Indianapolis could not develop her great plan for parks and driveways linking those parks with lamp-lined asphalt. It could not have been done under the 1881 constitutional bond limit provision.

Came the big flood of 1913 and Indianapolis conceived her immense sanitary district flood prevention scheme. This in its turn called for still an additional taxing unit, and the sanitary district or flood prevention law was enacted to enable certain cities and section to stop over and beyond the 2 percent constitutional limit to lay taxes and issue bonds to pay for dikes, levees, dredging and channel improvements such as those put through by Indianapolis.

So it has come to pass that with four separate and distinct taxing units, each with power to raise money for public ends of various sorts, Indianapolis is not seriously hampered by the old-time 2 percent limit on bonded indebtedness.

"CHEROKEE STRIP"

Nine Senators and Eleven Representatives Are Only Ones Who Are Democrats

ARE GIVEN SIDE PLACES

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15—The "cherokee strips" in both the state senate and house of representatives is very small at this session of the legislature. The "Cherokee strip" is that section of either house occupied by the party in the minority, and derives its name from the fact that it is located on the side of either chamber farthest from the natural light of the windows. This time the democrats occupy the famous strip. Senator George Hepler of South Bend, is a democrat. He is the only member of the senate whose seat remained unchanged. He still is in the darkest corner of the senate chamber—the extremity of the strip. There are eleven democratic representatives and nine senators.

MANY SURPRISES MADE

Indiana and Purdue Have Both Received Their Surprise Defeats, But May Yet Win Out

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, Jan. 14—It would appear as if every college and high school basketball team in the state would be in action this week. Already there have been numerous surprises and upsets in form shown by some teams.

Early this season, the indications were that Indiana and Purdue would be the big noises in basketball in Indiana and that the teams had a chance to take a high rank among the conference college fives. They may still lead in the conference, but both teams have had their surprise defeats.

Indiana in games where its teams outclassed its opponents appeared to be world beaters, but it was a different story when the Bloomington team met the all-star aggregation of the merchants Heat and Light Co. Outclassed and outplayed, Indiana looked like a weak team.

But Indiana is not a weak college team. No college five in the country could have defeated the team that Indiana met in Indianapolis a week ago. From now on Indiana's attention is devoted to its important Big Ten Conference games. Last Saturday Indiana opened its conference season with Ohio State at Columbus and Monday, January 10, met Michigan. Northwestern will open the conference college season in Bloomington January 17. On January 15, Northwestern is scheduled to meet Purdue at Lafayette.

In speaking of strong teams among the colleges, it would be well for the basketball fans to keep their eyes on Coach Vaughan's Wabash College five, which has been going and Coach Buss' Tigers, which have already a long string of victories. DePauw and Earlham meet today at West teams in history.

Wabash met Purdue January 11. After returning from a trip to Illinois, the Little Giants are hitting their stride. A game of exceptional interest is to be played January 18 at Crawfordsville when the two old rivals—Wabash and DePauw—meet. DePauw and Earlham meet today at Greencastle.

Notre Dame's schedule called for two games during this week.

Knights of Pythias to Appear For First Time Monday Night

The Knights of Pythias will appear Monday night following the business session of the lodge, in their new basketball uniforms which were purchased this week in Indianapolis. The suits are said to be classy, but the color and description is being withheld until the team makes their appearance. The K. of P. lodge has several games scheduled and will play the Martin family team on the Modern Appliance floor on the night of January 27.

A large attendance is desired at the lodge Monday night, so that two strong teams can be picked to play a game.

RALEIGH TAKES A FAST ONE

Defeats Webb Team Friday Night—Light Plant Installed

The Raleigh high school took a fast game last night from the Webb school on the floor at Webb, the final count being 21 to 11. It was the first night game on the Webb floor, as an electric light plant was installed yesterday. Webb was able to throw only one field goal in the last half. Poor for Raleigh made seven out of eight chances on foul goals.

A good game is expected tonight in the new gymnasium at Raleigh when the Fairview high school will meet the Raleigh team. The Raleigh team so far has not lost a game on their home floor and the game will be a thriller tonight, from all indications.

MILROY DROPS A COMEBACK GAME

Braves the Small Pox Situation and Greensburg Turns The Tide in Last Half

SCORE ENDED 23 TO 22

Tree City Team Stages Comeback After Milroy Goes Big at The Start of The Game

After Rushville had cancelled the game with Greensburg, the Milroy high school stepped in and decided that they would take a chance with the small pox situation, and went to that city last night to play Greensburg, and the game resulted in a victory for Greensburg, 23 to 22.

Milroy sent their second string men to Westport in place of the first team, and the second team won out 22 to 10.

Milroy started off in a rush last night against the Tree City team, and within ten minutes had run the score up to 15 points, holding Greensburg to a lone marker.

Then Greensburg jumped into the game and staged a rally, and the first half ended with Milroy at 16 and Greensburg at 9 points. In the second half Greensburg came back strong and gradually their side of the score climbed up, and the game was tied at 18 points.

With the score tied, Greensburg then took the lead and Milroy never went ahead of them again, and the score ended with Greensburg one point ahead. Only two weeks ago a thriller was staged between these two teams, when Milroy won out by two points, 28 to 26.

B. B. Evans acted as referee and Case of Columbus acted as umpire. Evans acted as referee for the Rushville-Milroy game here, and was not very well thought of by the Milroy fans, but word from Greensburg today stated that he handled the game in the best of fashion.

CARTHAGE VARSITY RESTS FOR TONIGHT

Second Team is Sent to Cambridge City Friday Night For Game, and Loses, 46 to 5

CURTAIN RAISER TONIGHT

The Carthage high school basketball team took a rest last night, and did not go over to Cambridge City, but sent the second team in its place where they were defeated 46 to 5. The Carthage team will come here tonight for a game with the local high school, and had they played in Cambridge City last night, it would have meant three games this week.

Carthage will bring a big delegation with them, according to word received today from that place. The Carthage team is fully rested since their game with Connersville on Wednesday night, in which they won out over the Fayette team, and the game tonight may be expected to be a thriller.

The preliminary game will be played between the second teams from the two schools, and this game also will be a good attraction. The curtain raiser will start promptly at 7:15. The local high school band and the rooters gang will be on hand early to take part in the contest.

SHELBYVILLE WINS

Shelbyville, Ind., Jan. 15.—Shelbyville defeated Franklin here last night for the first time in four years in a hard-fought game, 25 to 18. The game was rough from the start, with the locals holding a slight edge at half time, 12 to 7. Richardson, Shelbyville forward, accounted for 15 points and Vandiver of the visitors tossed 14 points.

BUTLER BEATS ROSE POLY

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—Hooker ran wild on the Butler court last night and the Pagemen presented Rose Poly with the short side of a 39-18 count. Hooker tossed ten baskets from the field and five from the foul, accounting for seven more points than the entire Engineer team. Rose hopped into the lead and scored three points before Butler counted, but the Pagemen were not to be denied and came through with a flood of field goals that completely drowned the Rose score. By half time the Blue and White led, 21 to 10.

FAIRVIEW IS DEFEATED

The Manilla high school took the second game of the season from the Fairview high school at Manilla last night, when the up county team lost 35 to 19. Peters, lanky center for Fairview was guarded closely throughout the game and the team was lost on the strange cement floor which seemed to be slick with moisture. Manilla kept a comfortable lead at all times and Fairview did not prove dangerous.

LEWISVILLE WINS

The Lewisville independent basketball team defeated the Carthage independent five at Lewisville Friday night, 32 to 13. The score at the end of the first half was 13 to 9 in Carthage's favor and the home team came back strong in the last frame.

CHALMERS

"Will it Perform as well as the Chalmers?"

This question was asked recently by a Chalmers owner, which shows the standard by which many men judge the merits of a motor car. It indicates the position this car holds in the personal transportation of America.

Right to be considered a model is hard won. Only through service has the Chalmers earned its right.

Just as the Chalmers cars are the standard in many sections of the country, there are Chalmers cars in all sections, running under all conditions.

Have you given consideration to the number of men in your community with whom the Chalmers are the standard car?

SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the D. A. R. will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. D. Case in North Main street. A full attendance is desired.

The Pythian Sisters will meet in the parlors of the K. of P. hall at eight o'clock Monday evening. A good attendance is urged as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stiers were host and hostess for an informal party last evening at their home in North Perkins street, when ten couples enjoyed a pitch-in supper and card party at their home. Following the delicious supper the remainder of the evening was spent in playing Five Hundred.

Through an oversight of the press correspondent of the Woman's Relief Corps, the name of one of the officers elected for the coming year was omitted, that of Mrs. Ida Lee, who was chosen as musician for the corps.

Mrs. Harriet Plough entertained the members of the Thimble Club yesterday at her home in North Main with a prettily appointed one o'clock luncheon. The remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed with an informal social party. Among those present were Mrs. J. Gould Drum, of Miles City, Montana and Miss Helen Smith of Crawfordsville.

The Monday Circle will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Vern Norris in West Second street instead of with Mrs. Clara Lambert as scheduled. The club will continue their studies in South America and Mrs. Norris will prepare a paper on "Paraguay and Uruguay", and Mrs. Ione Abercrombie will give a book review of "El Supremo". All members of the club are urged to be present.

Theodore Heeb of this city attended an elegant dinner party Sunday at the home of William Heeb, in Connersville honoring the Connersville man's eighty-fifth birthday anniversary. Only immediate relatives of the honored guest were present for the affair. Toasts were given by Mrs. E. J. Schlichte, Fred, Hackman, Louis Heeb, Jr., all of Connersville, and by Theodore Heeb of this city.

The Rebekah Crochet club was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bert Mattox in East Fifth street. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Minnie Moore, Mrs. Walter Perkins and Miss Nellie Morgan. Following an interesting program a business session was held, during which officers were elected. Mrs. Nellie Sweet was elected president; Mrs. Minnie Moore, vice president, and Mrs. Carrie Lucas, secretary treasurer. During the social hour at the close of the business meeting dainty refreshments were served. Twenty-three members and seven visitors were present for the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Megee and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frazee were hosts and hostesses for the ladies of the Happy-Go-Lucky club, their husbands, and other invited guests, last evening at the home of the latter in North Harrison street. A prettily appointed six o'clock dinner was served to the guests present. The dining table was centered with a beautiful bouquet of organ blossoms and foliage sent to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frazee by Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Frazee who are spending the winter at Long Beach, California.

Following the dinner an entertaining musical program was given by Mrs. George Hogsett, Mrs. Walter E. Smith and Miss Florence Fleehart. The program consisted of vocal and piano selections by Mrs. Hogsett and violin selections by Mrs. Smith and Miss Fleehart.

The American Literary Club held a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Spradling in West Second street. Mrs. Emmett Fegley was the assisting hostess. During the program given Mrs. C. S. Hester read an excellent paper on "Historical Story of 141 Years Ago."

A business meeting was held following the program during which officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Will Morgan, president; Mrs. P. H. Chadwick, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Clifford, secretary; Mrs. C. S. Hester, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ed Spradling, treasurer.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be held February 11 at the home of Mrs. P. H. Chadwick. Mrs. Will Morgan will be the assisting hostess.

Mystery Play at Princess
J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Brunton Production, "The House of Whispers," a gripping mystery play by the well-known novelist and playwright, William Johnston, has been released by W. W. Hodkinson and will be shown today at the Princess Theatre.

"The House of Whispers," is undoubtedly one of the finest pictures Kerrigan has produced in years and is excellently adapted to his virile, romantic type. He is seen in the role of an adventure loving young clubman who undertakes to solve a baffling mystery which surrounds "The House of Whispers," an exclusive apartment house.

An ingenious crook has built "The House of Whispers" and honey-combed in with secret passageways thus enabling him to rob the apartments of his tenants at leisure. With

DELPHI BOY IS NEW STATE POTATO KING

Homer Crandall of Mt. Summit, Henry County, is Declared Champion Junior Corn Grower

ANNOUNCEMENT AT PURDUE

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 15.—John Greenwalt, 16 years old, of Delphi, is the champion boy potato grower of Indiana, and Homer Crandall, also 16, of Mt. Summit, Henry county, is the champion junior corn grower of the state. Announcement of these winners was made Friday at Purdue university at the closing session of the farmers' short course.

Both boys won honors in their sections, into which the state had been divided for the contest and the corn and potato shows, and then defeated their several competitors in the state.

Crandall's closest competitor was Dorothy May Baker, of Lyons, Greene county, daughter of the winner of the five-acre corn growing contest the last two years. Her yield was 143.5 bushels on the one-acre plot, while that of Crandall's was a little more than a bushel under it. However, his cost of production was lower, and his sample of corn sent to the state show scored higher. The differences on these points were enough to more than offset her slight advantage in yield. The Baker girl, last year, produced 138 bushels on one acre and 113 the year before.

the aid of a beautiful girl, Spalding discovers the secret of the passageways and exposes the criminal.

Kerrigan is supported in this picture by an unusually brilliant cast. Fritzi Brunette, who has played opposite the star in many of his successes of the past year, is again seen in the leading feminine role. Direction is by Ernest C. Warde and the play was adapted to the screen by Jack Cunningham.

ACCUSED OF SHOOTING DEPAUW GIRL STUDENT

Greencastle Man is Indicted by Grand Jury For Wounding
Miss Hilda Varney

RUSH COUNTY BOY WITH HER

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 15.—The Putnam county grand jury returned an indictment last night against William P. Sackett, charging him with assault with intent to kill, as the result of the shooting of Miss Hilda Varney, a sophomore student in DePauw university, on the night of Dec. 4.

Miss Varney and Mark Bills were standing in a driveway in the rear of the Sackett home about 10 o'clock on the night of Dec. 4, when Mr. Sackett returned from the postoffice. As he entered the house he said he thought some one was trying to steal his automobile. He procured the revolver and fired from the porch. The bullet struck Miss Varney in the shoulder, and for days her condition was serious. Miss Varney has practically fully recovered from the wound.

Sackett has long been prominently identified with business in this city. Until recently he operated a grocery here. He was formerly a school teacher near Cloverdale.

Mark Bills, the young man accompanying Miss Varney when she was shot, is a Rush county boy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zach Bills of near Raleigh and recently appeared here with a musical organization from Greencastle at a banquet given by the Tall Cedars.

EFFORT MADE TO SAVE PRIMARY LAW

Rush County People Watching With Interest Fight to Prevent Repeal
of State Measure

DETERMINED BATTLE IS ON

Administration Measure in Keeping
With Declaration to Eliminate
Features of Law

Many local people who have their own ideas about the value of the direct primary law are watching the fighting that is in progress in the state legislature between one group that wishes to curtail the law and another which would extend the primary system. The administration bill to eliminate the selection of some candidates by direct vote is being prepared. Sen. John S. Allredge of Anderson, has introduced a bill to extend the system.

The administration bill will preserve the primary system for the selection of city, township and county officers and for the naming of precinct committeemen and delegates to state and congressional conventions, but would do away with the primary as it applies to governor, United States senator and delegates to national conventions.

The Allredge plan calls for the following changes:

1. Extending the direct primary system to all state offices.
2. Abolishment of the presidential preference primary.
3. Selection of candidates by a plurality vote instead of a majority vote.
4. Limiting campaign expenses for state candidates and candidate for United States senator to $3,500. The penalty for spending more is to forfeit the nomination.

Under the present primary law the nominees for governor and United States senator are selected at a statewide primary while other state officials are nominated by convention. The Allredge bill, therefore, calls for the nomination, by direct primary of Lieutenant governor, auditor of state, secretary of state, treasurer of state, superintendent of public instruction, attorney general clerk of the supreme court, reporter of the supreme court and judges of the Supreme and Appellate courts.

The primary law requires the successful candidate to obtain a majority of votes cast. In event no candidate receives a majority, the matter is placed before the state convention. Senator Allredge's bill proposed that a plurality vote will be sufficient to nominate.

No change is proposed in the method of selecting presidential electors and delegates to the national conventions. These are now chosen by the delegates to the state convention in district meetings the day preceding the convention, with the exception of the delegates and electors at large, who are chosen by the convention.

The proposed amendment designed to limit expenditures proposes, "that nothing in this act shall be taken or construed to prohibit the chairman

INJURIES FATAL FOR HENRY WERTZ

Timber Buyer For Reynolds Manufacturing Co., Dies 3 Hours
After Crossing Accident

RUNS INTO C. I. & W. TRAIN

Machine Hurlled Against Main Street
Flagman's Shanty—Apparently Didn't See Signal

Henry Wertz, age 54 years a timber buyer for the Reynolds Manufacturing Company of this city, died at the Dr. Sexton hospital, last night about 10:30, having been fatally injured when his automobile ran into the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western passenger train about 5:25 last evening at the Main street crossing.

Mr. Wertz was the sole occupant of the Sedan touring car, which is regarded as a fortunate thing, as the machine was almost a total wreck. He was driving his machine south in Main street, coming down the hill, and either failed to see the crossing watchman in time to slack his speed, or else slid his machine on the icy pavement into the engine.

The pilot of the engine threw the machine against the flagman's shanty, and in some miraculous manner, Wertz was found within the shanty, in an unconscious condition.
The machine was thrown upon the sidewalk along Fourth street.

The injured man was carried into a physician's office nearby, and later removed to the hospital, where an examination was held, and it is thought that he died of internal injuries and from a wound inflicted near the base of his skull.

The train was said to be running slowly, although it was twenty minutes late, and it stopped within the length of itself. According to James Goodbar, crossing watchman,
Wertz came down the hill very fast.

Mr. Goodbar stated that many machines come down the hill and turn abruptly to the right or left, and he expected Wertz to do the same, and when he saw him coming straight, he yelled at him, but it was too late, and the crash followed.

Miss Martha Winkenhof, 410
North Morgan street, violinist at the Princess theater, was an eye witness to the accident, as was Fred Gale, 501 North Perkins street.

Miss Winkenhof stated that as she came to the corner she noticed the watchman at Morgan street, but said that the Main street flagman was not out of his shanty, and that he came out only as the train was close at hand.

John Ringerberg was also said to have been in the shanty, and stepped out just a few seconds before the accident happened, or he too would have probably been killed instantly.

ORDERS REPORT ON EMERGENCY TARIFF

Senate Finance Committee Makes
Some Changes in Bill as Passed by the House

TARIFF ON MEAT IS ADDED

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 15.—The senate finance committee today ordered a favorable report on the Fordney emergency tariff bill. It will be reported Monday or Tuesday.

There was no record vote taken in the committee although democratic senators opposed the bill. The measure as adopted by the committee is different from the bill as passed by the house a number of amendments being made. The amendments provide for the following:

A tariff on fresh or frozen veal, mutton, lamp chops, beef and pork, of 2 cents a pound and on all other meats prepared or preserved or advalorem, at the rate of 25 percent.
The tariff on tobacco, an increase on the rates of wrapper and filler tobacco of $1.85 to $2.95 a pound and on stem tobacco, $2.50 to $3.50, proposed by Senator McLean, Connecticut.

TO OUST FARM HAND Rue Miller Sues Roy Hartwell Possession of House

Rue Miller has filed suit in circuit court against Roy Hartwell on a complaint for possession of real estate and $50 judgment for its retention. The plaintiff maintains that Hartwell was employed as a farm hand, and in a written contract sets out that he was to have free rent while working for the plaintiff. The complaint alleges that the two have dissolved their contract and that the defendant still occupies the tenant house, and it is for this reason that the suit was brought.

Clyde Wilson has filed a suit for guardian, against Irma W. Mitchell, age 78 years, whom he alleges is a person not capable of managing her own affairs.

REVIVAL FOR ALL WHO ONCE LIVED

Dr. Munhall Says Evangelism is Needed For Those Who Have Become Spiritually Inert

2ND M. E. REVIVAL SERVICE

Church Which Does Not Hold Evangelistic Meetings is Not Alive
To Its Mission

Declaring that revivals are for the world-conformed churches as well as people who have become spiritually inert, Dr. L. W. Munhall spoke Friday night at the second of the series of evangelistic meetings at St.
Paul's M. E. church on "Revivals and Evangelism."

The meeting was more largely attended than the opening one Thursday, it was reported, and the interest was better. The opening exercises were conducted by the pastor,
the Rev. C. S. Black. Dr. J. M. Walker, the district superintendent, offered the opening prayer.

After announcing that there would be no services on Saturday but four on Sunday at 10:30 a. m., 2:00, 3:00 and 7:00 p. m., and explaining some matters relating to plans and organizations of the campaign, Dr. Munhall proceeded to address the audience.

"Revivals," he declared, "are for the church, for folks who were once alive, but had lapsed become spiritually inert—out of communion with the source of life and power, having the form but without the power.
When such repent to do their first works and thereby get back into fellowship with God, they are revived.
Members of the church who once were active in the service of their Lord and Master, who now are indifferent in any degree, to the claims of God and the church upon them, as seen in their neglect of the means of grace, absence from the prayer meeting and the table of the Lord, and apparent unconcern for the salvation of the lost and the welfare of the church, all such need a reviving, and a revival is for them.

"Evangelizing is for unsaved people. It is the proclamation of the Gospel of the Grace of God to all unsaved souls. That is the supreme work of the church, going into all the world, with the Gospel message, making disciples and baptizing them into the fellowship of the church—into the byways and hedges, the lame, the maimed, the blind, the lame—with the message of life and hope that the lost may be saved—that is evangelism.

"The church will not do this if conformed to the follies, fads and fashions of the world, and unalive to the value and importance of her mission. Nine-tenths of the difficulties in the way of reaching the unsaved and getting them to attend our church services disappear when the church is revived. There is nothing in a dead formal world-conforming church to attract unsaved people to its services."

DENIES THEFT OF AN ABANDONED CAR

Hascall Clegg, 21, of Morristown, in Jail For Receiving Stolen Goods,
Pleads Not Guilty

BOND IS FIXED AT $1,000

Conrad Ostermeyer of Cumberland
Claims Car Which Clegg Admits
He Abandoned Here

Hascall Clegg, age 21 years, whose home is in Morristown and Arlington, is in jail here on a charge of receiving stolen property, and when arraigned this morning before Judge Sparks in the circuit court, entered a plea of not guilty, and will go on trial next Friday.

His bond has been fixed at $1,000 which was not provided today, but was expected to be before night.

Clegg is said to have abandoned an automobile on the New Salem road, south of New Salem, on Wednesday, and was seen by four people leaving the machine along the roadside. The machine was owned by Conrad Ostermeyer of Cumberland, Marion county, who came here today to get it.

Mr. Ostermeyer stated that his machine was stolen Tuesday night.
Clegg was arrested yesterday afternoon in Morristown by Sheriff Jones and brought here and placed in jail.

He told a conflicting story, according to Prosecutor Stevens. He stated that he left Connersville on Wednesday morning for Rushville, and was approached by an unknown man near the Grand hotel, who had the automobile.

Clegg stated that the man wanted him to drive the car to Laurel, and agreed to pay him $200. According to Clegg, he drove the machine with the unknown man as a passenger, to Laurel, and was paid the money, and told to bring the machine on back to Rushville and leave it near the hotel.

According to Clegg, he started back, and the other side of New Salem the machine balked, and he left it there.

Sheriff Jones was notified by the people in that vicinity that a machine had been abandoned, and a sale advertisement from a Greenfield firm gave a clue as to the approximate location of the owner, and Ostier-meyer was summoned to claim the machine, which he did.

At first a charge of vehicle taking was placed against Clegg, but as there was not evidence that he had stolen the machine, a charge of receiving stolen goods was then placed against him today.

Clegg has been working near Arlington on the state highway, as a truck driver, and is married, being the son-in-law of Mr. Wicker, town marshall at Morristown.

WOMAN BREAKS FAST LASTING FOR 48 DAYS

Mrs. Sadie Harrington Takes Food
When Minister Calls at Her Danville Home Today

HUSBAND STILL UNREPENTANT

Danville, Ill., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Sadie Harrington broke her fasting today after abstaining from food for 48 days following a two hours conference with the Rev. G. S. Payne.

"I am ready for breakfast," she said after the Rev. Mr. Payne had won the victory, for Mrs. Harrington, after she had been trying to get her husband to join the Church of God, Harrington, a local butcher, is still unrepentant, declaring the ten commandments and the golden rule is his religion.

The Rev. Mr. Payne informed Mrs. Adda Pearcey, the nurse, to bring a cup of milk which Mrs. Harrington immediately drank. The Rev.
Mr. Payne watched her closely to see if the milk could be retained on her stomach.

"Mrs. Harrington was very gentle and submissive throughout my conference with her and showed a wonderful spirit," the minister stated.
She volunteered to break the fast without any definite request by the Rev. Mr. Payne.

SEES A BREAK IN THE GRAIN STRIKE

David Fargon Says That Farmers Must Sell, Pay His Debts And Spend His Money

BOARD OF TRADE'S OPINION

Effort of Producers to Hold Wheat and Force Prices Higher Is Losing Ground

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 15.—A strike of farmers against marketing wheat in an effort to force higher prices is starting to break, in the view of financial grain dealers and others in touch with the situation, given to the United Press today.

The real magnitude of the strike was brought home to grain dealers today when an announcement by the Chicago Board of Trade statistician that 50,000,000 less bushels of wheat passed through Chicago in 1920 compared with the year previous.

In 1919 the figures showed 79-927,000 bushels passed through Chicago channels while in the year just ended only 29,977,000 bushels were handled.

"The visible supply" of wheat, on January 1, 1921, was 43,063,000 bushels compared with 75,363,000 bushels a year ago. The "visible supply" is the amount actually held in the grain market centers, therefore the farmers' strike will decrease the market nearly 50 percent.

The special efforts of the strikers are given as being largely responsible for the tight money conditions and the general industrial depression by David Fargon, president of the National City Bank.

"Farmers borrowed million of dollars from their bankers a year ago to finance this year's crop.
When prices fell and they refused to sell, farmers were unable to repay the loans or pay other debts and bankers lost part of their money."
"Funds which would have been used in developing and carrying on other business were held by farmers and caused tight money until the farmers began to liquidate.

"The whole order of events were halted when farmers refused to sell, Fargon stated. "Agriculture is the fundamental basic industry which one-half of the people of the country depend upon for a living.

"Before business can become normal the farmers must do three things. He must sell. He must pay what he owes his banker and his other debt and he must buy.
"Liquidation begins with him and passes up along the line."

VOTES TO CALL CONFERENCE

House Foreign Affairs Committee
Wants Disarmament Meeting

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 15.—The house foreign affairs committee today unanimously approved the resolution of Representative Brooks, Pennsylvania, requesting the president in his discretion, to call an international conference on disarmament.

The chairman of the committee,
Representative Porter, Pennsylvania, was instructed to bring the resolution for action by the house at the earliest possible moment.

MISTAKES MADE IN DEDUCTIONS

Deductions For Business Expenses Are Principal Deductions Allowed in Income Tax Returns

MANY ERRONEOUS CLAIMS

Allowable Deductions Include Losses
Sustained by Taxpayer in a Profit Transaction

Many errors in the deductions allowed taxpayers are found in the income tax returns. Deductible items are omitted and other items, which are not deductible are included. Deductions for business expenses are the principal deductions allowed, the law expressly prohibiting deductions for personal, living, or family expenses.

The revenue act provides that in computing net income there shall be allowed as deductions from gross income all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred in the taxable year in carrying on any trade, business, profession, or vocation. Typical expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks and other employees, rent, light, heat and water, telephone, insurance, delivery expenses, the cost of operating delivery wagons and motor trucks, and incidental repairs to such vehicles. The expenses of a manufacturing business include labor, raw materials, supplies, repairs, light and heat, power, selling cost, administration, and similar charges.

A professional man may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used by him in his practice, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies and subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, the expense of fuel, light, water, and telephone used in such offices, and the hire of assistants.

A traveling man, working on salary or commission, is allowed to deduct certain business expenses.
Reasonable and necessary traveling expenses, including railroad fares and meals and lodging. A traveling man working on salary without reimbursement for traveling expenses, or employed on a commission basis with no expense allowance, may deduct his expenses for railroad fare, and also his expenses for meals and lodging in an amount in excess of the ordinary cost for such living expenses at home.

If he receives a salary and is repaid his actual traveling expenses he must include as gross income an amount equal to the expenses so repaid.

BILL CREATES A NEW DISTRICT FOR TAXING

Measure in State Senate Allows Municipalities to Borrow up to Constitutional Limit

WOULD APPLY TO RUSHVILLE

A bill which will be reported favorably in the senate, at the annual session of the Indiana legislature, according to word from Indianapolis today, provides that cities having municipal utilities may create a new taxing district to enable the utility to borrow money up to the two percent constitutional indebtedness limit.

This measure is intended primarily to apply to the city of Washington, Ind., which has been compelled to construct a new municipal plant and is prevented from completing the project because the city has about absorbed its borrowing power.

The bill is of interest, however, to all cities in Indiana having municipal utilities, such as Rushville, as the measure would apply to all cities. An amendment to be proposed by the committee will exclude Indianapolis from the provisions of the bill.

The establishment of the city utility taxing district in any city, the bill provides, will require a petition signed by at least 30 per cent of the voters of the city.

KNIGHTSTOWN MAN ON 13 COMMITTEES

Rep. Morgan Will be About The Busiest Person in The Legislature, It Appears

IS A PRACTICAL FARMER

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—Representative Ray C. Morgan of Knightstown will have enough work to keep him busy every minute of the present session of the legislature. Speaker of the House McClure appointed Morgan to membership on thirteen committees.

Morgan, who is a farmer, is making his debut in the law making body and was considerably surprised when the speaker announced he had received thirteen committee appointment.

One of these alone, that of the ways and means committee, is enough to occupy most of his attention. And then these committees will also depend on his presence: Public Morals, Roads, Congressional apportionment, Drains and Dykes, Education, Fees and Salaries, Public Expenditures, Swamp Lands, Trust Funds, Enrolled Bills, and the committee on Soldiers.

TO ELECT CITY COMMITTEE

Republicans Meet in Court House at 7 O'clock Tonight

Republicans of this city will meet in the court house this evening at seven o'clock to elect a city committee to have charge of the coming city campaign preceding the election next November.

Only members of the city committee, composed of precinct committeemen, will vote to name a city chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer, but all republicans, both men and women, are urged to attend.

FOR EUROPEAN RELIEF FUND

Three Contributions Amounting to $25 Received Today

Twenty-five dollars was added to the fund being raised in this county for the European Relief Council today, when contributions of $10 each were received from Mr. and Mrs. Chris King and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford King, and $5 from Norman King, all living south of the city.

It is believed the Rush county contribution to help feed the starving children of Europe is now close to $2,000 because a number of subscriptions have been sent direct to the national or state organization.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 15.—William Rehl, 49, and his son Lawrence, age 7, were burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed their home here. Mrs. Rehl's chest and arms were burned and most of her hair was singed from her head when she rescued her eight-months-old daughter. The fire is believed to have been caused from an oil heater.

or both installments will become delinquent and subject to a penalty.

The Second Installment must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1921

No tax receipts will be held out until taxes are paid in full.

Extracts From the Statutes of Indiana.

That each person or taxpayer charged with taxes on a duplicate in the hands of a County Treasurer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the first Monday in May, or may at his option, pay one-half thereof on or before the first Monday in May, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November, in the manner prescribed by law. All road taxes to be added to the first installment.

When the first installment is not paid prior to the first Monday in May, the taxes for the whole year become delinquent. The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on Delinquent Taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Persons owing Delinquent Taxes should pay them at once. The late law is of such character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property.

The owner of the property on the first day of March in any year, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes of that year. The purchaser of property on the first day of March shall be considered as owner on that day.—Sec. 103.

All property, both personal and real, situated in any county shall be liable for the taxes, penalties, interests, and costs to the owners thereof, in such county, and no partial payment of such taxes, penalties, interests or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid; which lien shall in no wise be affected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property.—Sec. 614, R. S.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the penalty on taxes allowed to go delinquent. No County Order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes and all parties are warned against buying the same.

The Annual Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1921.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

TAXPAYERS SHOULD EXAMINE THEIR RECEIPTS before leaving the Treasurer's office and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one township, must see that they have a receipt for all.

Treasurer of Rush County.

FIRST BIRTHDAY OF LEAGUE JAN. 16

On That Day a Year Ago The First Meeting of The Council Was Held at Paris

NOW HAS 49 MEMBERS

Is Situated in a Home in Geneva Where Staff of General Secretariat Occupies 175 Rooms

(Written for United Press)

Geneva, Jan. 15.—The first birthday anniversary of the League of Nations occurs Sunday, January 16. On that day a year ago the first meeting of the Council was held at Paris and the formal organization of the League effected. The intervening twelve months have been much troubled by echoes of the great war and by the feverish efforts of the world to reach some sort of new equilibrium. The handicap thus placed on the first attempt at a world wide international organization has been tremendous.

A year ago the League had twenty-three declared members. Today it has forty-nine, Nicaragua and Honduras having completed their ratifications, while the forty-one delegations comprising the Assembly were still in session at Geneva, where six new members were granted admission, two of them being former enemy states.

The present membership of the League represents an estimated total of 1,247,000,000 to which can be added another 12,000,000 people living in mandatory territories. Eleven more states, with a total population of 44,000,000 have applied for membership, leaving a total of only 361,000,000 people wholly outside.

One year ago the League machinery consisted of the Council and an incipient Secretariat with insufficient temporary quarters at London. Today the League has a home of its own in this city, where the staff of the General Secretariat, consisting of several hundred people from a score of countries, occupies 175 rooms, while a nearby building has 8 more rooms used for committee meetings and as offices for the various member states.

About sixty international treaties have been registered by a score of nations under the Covenant provision for open diplomacy. Partly through the labors of the Secretariat and partly through a number of international conferences held under the auspices of the League, most of the subsidiary or auxiliary organizations prescribed by the Covenant have been brought into existence.

The first steps have been taken toward the creation of a Permanent International Court with extensive judicial powers.

The first official International Labor Organization has become a reality.

Permanent or provisional commissions have been established to deal with the problem of disarmament; with the control of authority granted to mandatory powers; with the use of the economic blockade against violators of the world's peace; with the reorganization of the world's finances; with questions of public health, and with the protection and co-ordination of international communications.

The League has provided a government for the Saar territory and has engineered the establishment of Danzig as a free city.

It has undertaken to settle the dispute between Sweden and Finland about the Aaland Islands, and it has managed in the face of great difficulties to maintain a truce between Poland and Lithuania that gives hope of a peaceful settlement.

It is now gathering an armed international force drawn from eight countries to police the Vilna district while a civil commission of its appointment supervises a plebiscite to determine the final disposal of that region.

With the assistance of the League and under its direction, more than 200,000 war prisoners have been restored to their native countries, some of them being brought halfway around the world for that purpose. A systematic campaign has been inaugurated against the epidemics ravaging Central Europe.

amount equal to the ordinary expense for meals and lodging when at home, as such amount is held to be additional compensation to the taxpayer. Payment for the use of a sample room for the display of goods is a business expense.

The farmer may deduct all amounts paid in the production, harvesting, and marketing of crops including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling), fences, and machinery, and of small tools which are used up in the course of the year.

Taxpayers frequently make the mistake of claiming as deduction expenditures for articles more or less permanent in character or for permanent improvement of their property. In the case of the business man they include claims for the erection of new buildings or installation of machinery. A farmer claims as a deduction the cost of a new thrashing machine or tractor, or the expense of putting a new roof on his barn. Such deductions are expressly disallowed by the revenue act, and are held to be investments of capital.

Allowable deductions, in addition to business expenses, include losses sustained by the taxpayer in any transaction entered into for profits outside of his regular business.

A reasonable allowance is made for depreciation of business property, including obsolescence, and for the depletion of oil and gas and other natural deposits.

Contributions made during the year 1920 to corporations organized exclusively for charitable, scientific, religious, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, or the special fund for vocational rehabilitation may be deducted to an amount not exceeding 15 per cent of the taxpayer's income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

Other items which may be deducted are as follows:

Taxes paid or accrued during the year 1920, except income, war profits, or excess profits taxes, and those assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to improve the value of the taxpayer's property.

Losses of property not connected with trade or business arising from fires, or other casualty, or from theft, if not compensated for by insurance.

Debts ascertained to be worthless and charged off within the year 1920.

Interest paid or accrued on indebtedness, except interest incurred to purchase securities (other than securities of the United States issued subsequent to Sept. 24, 1917), the interest on which is exempt from tax.

INQUIRIES, FATAL FOR HENRY WERTZ

as the shanty was badly damaged and moved from its foundation.

W. F. Easley, proprietor of the Princess theater was among the first persons to reach the wounded man, and he carried him out of the shanty, which soon caught fire from the stove. The chemical truck from the fire station was called and the flames were quickly extinguished.

Mr. Wertz came here just a little over a year ago to take up the work at the local factory. His home place was in Edinburgh, and the remains will be sent to that city Sunday afternoon. Friends may call at the late residence, 3 of a mile west of Rushville any time up until noon Sunday.

The deceased is survived by a widow and three daughters, who are Mrs. Roy Amos of Edinburgh, where the funeral services will be held either Monday or Tuesday; Mrs. Claude Conover of Lewis Creek, and Mrs. Kenneth Harkless of Dorton, Fla.

Mr. Wertz belonged to the Masonic order at Edinburgh, the Knights of Pythias at Flatrock and the Odd Fellows at Lewis Creek.

CLASS FOR FEB. 22

The Tall Cedars of Lebanon will take in another class here on February 22, and the event falling upon Washington's birthday, it will be doubly celebrated. The Cedars also have consented to take a trip to Milroy in the near future, where the work will be given to a class in that place, and a new lodge instituted.

NEW EDITOR AT MILROY

A new editor arrived at Milroy Friday night when a son was born to the wife of Dewey Hagen, owner and publisher of the Milroy Press. The boy weighed twelve pounds and was born about ten-thirty o'clock. He has been named Jules Conrad.

Public Utilities

When a man boards an interurban car he expects to arrive at a given destination at a given time. If it is late he swears under his breath. If the lights go out while he is in the midst of a very interesting story, he fumes and "fusses" and says a few mean things about the corporations and trusts.

He goes through the usual program when he gets agitated without giving the question any thought. If he is a business man or has ever had any experience whatever in business transactions, he should know that the interurban company regrets as much as he that the train was late; that the lights went out, or that the car was stalled in the country on a cold night.

The officers of the corporation which controls that particular interurban line want to give the best service it is possible for them to offer because they know that service makes patronage. The average person never gets the other fellow's viewpoint—that service is the key word to success, especially in the case of the public utility. They do not realize that it is to the interest of the public service corporation to please its customers.

This was one of the subjects discussed at the annual meeting of the Indiana Public Utility association in Indianapolis Thursday—the relations between the public service corporation and its patrons and how to get their position clearly before the people they seek to serve.

The age when the public utility adopted the "public-be-hanged" policy has passed. Public utility men nowadays know that they must cater to their customers and that the only way to win them is by serving them better. It is their problem to make their customers understand what their aims really are.

Philip H. Gadsden of Philadelphia, president of the American Electric Railway association, who was one of the speakers at the meeting, got at the very heart of the solution with his simple slogan, "Be frank and advertise."

The public utilities have woefully neglected the publicity end of their business. They have failed to realize the value of the printed word; that they can put their message before the people where they will see it. They have not awakened to the fact that their customers could probably be convinced they are doing all in their power to serve them if the proper effort were made.

But the public service corporations have an alibi. They are the one class of corporation which is regulated and the kind of regulation which we have had in the last decade has placed them in the position where their securities will not sell and they are sadly in need of funds. They are not allowed to earn over seven or eight percent in their investments, and their plight has been so precarious, especially since 1915, that investors will not risk any money on them.

The sooner consumers begin to study their public utilities and the sooner the utilities themselves make an honest effort to combat the common attitude toward their business, just that much sooner will their difference be ironed out. The one way for them to reach the public eye is through advertising, and the announcement at the state meeting that several of the national associations of public service corporations are arranging an extensive advertising campaign, indicates that a new era may be approaching.

If the railroads which plan to sue the government for damages, make no more headway than the firms which are trying to settle their war contracts, they may as well save themselves the trouble of bringing suit.

Drop in price of calico does not interest the girls much, but they are profoundly stirred by the news that fur coats have come down from $700.00 to $598.00.

A great many people who sit in stuffed office chairs, are issuing advice to others to go back to the land and do hard muscular work digging in the dirt.

And still, we can hardly expect all of Europe to flock to this country. Government officials do not willingly quit as long as there's a payroll in sight.

Americans are frantically grasping at the olive branch Mexico is holding out to us. It smells strongly of booze.

Successful men invariably look the part. So does the tramp.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15—Many cities and towns will watch the course of senate bill No. 21, introduced by Senator Ratts. This is a measure understood to have been brought to the session by Ex-Senator Ezra Mattingly, now city attorney of Washington, Davies County, and is designed primarily to enable cities and towns owning public utilities to solve certain large problems of financing betterments and enlargements in such utility plants. Washington's own case is an example, but it is said by friends of the proposed law that several other cities and towns are so situated as to feel the need for this enabling legislation. Indianapolis, it may be said is left out of the bill. At the same time it is apparent that those back of the measure have gone to the acts passed in recent years on behalf of the capital city and have drawn therefrom some measure of inspiration and encouragement, as well as legal justification.

In 1881 a constitutional amendment fixed a restrictive limit upon the ability of Indiana cities to go into debt. It was provided that the bonded debt of the city must not rise beyond a sum equal 2 percent of the total of taxables in the community concerned. The effect of this constitutional provision, whatever its original intent, has been to discourage municipal ownership of public utilities in Indiana.

There came a time when cities developed on lines not perhaps contemplated by the prophets and statesmen of 1881. What with modern sanitary systems, street improvements and other essential expenditures of the later-day city, including wise and proper educational facilities, the 2 percent limit on the bonded indebtedness of the city became a serious and irksome deterrent—an obstacle in the path of honest progress.

There was stiff opposition when a new constitution was urged to take the place of the 1851 document. With its 1881 amendments. Yet the vital matter of school development pressed so vigorously and convincingly that it became necessary to find a way out for the schools. Adequate facilities could not be provided for the schools system within the 2 percent debt limit fixed by basic law upon the cities. Indianapolis was hampered and the situation was desperate.

It was the late Gen. Benj. Harrison who argued before the Indiana

Supreme Court to the effect that the School City was a corporation separate from the Civil City, and in itself and for itself entitled to expend for the schools a sum equal to 2 percent of the total of taxables in the School City. Now, of course, the School City and the Civil City are one and the same physically, and in the matter of taxables. Yet the court agreed that the School City and the Civil City were separate corporations, each enabled to go into debt up to 2 percent of the total valuation for taxation in the city. This meant, of course, that it was possible under the decision to issue bonds up to 4 percent of the total valuation for taxation.

One of the things that made this radical step necessary on behalf of the schools was the fact that tax valuations were habitually set so low that the 2 percent set by the 1881 amendment actually meant that cities were allowed to go into debt only up to practically one percent of the actual taxables, as fully half those values never got on the tax books at all.

Indianapolis, in time of local need seized upon the decision in the School City case to show that a similar ruling ought to be made in favor of creating a new taxing unit which might levy special taxes and create new indebtedness for the erection of a park and boulevard system of large scope and of undoubted value and merit. Without special legislation Indianapolis could not develop her great plan for parks and driveways linking those parks with lamp-lined asphalt. It could not have been done under the 1881 constitutional bond limit provision.

Came the big flood of 1913 and Indianapolis conceived her immense sanitary district flood prevention scheme. This in its turn called for still an additional taxing unit, and the sanitary district or flood prevention law was enacted to enable certain cities and sections to step over and beyond the 2 percent constitutional limit to lay taxes and issue bonds to pay for dikes, levees, dredging and channel improvements such as those put through by Indianapolis.

So it has come to pass that with four separate and distinct taxing units, each with power to raise money for public ends of various sorts, Indianapolis is not seriously hampered by the old-time 2 percent limit on bonded indebtedness.

NOT MANY OCCUPY "CHEROKEE STRIP"

Nine Senators and Eleven Representatives Are Only Ones Who Are Democrats

ARE GIVEN SIDE PLACES

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15—The "Cherokee strips" in both the senate and house of representatives is very small at this session of the legislature. The "Cherokee strip" is that section of either house occupied by the party in the minority, and derives its name from the fact that it is located on the side of either chamber farthest from the natural light of the windows. This time the democrats occupy the famous strip.

Senator George Hepler of South Bend, is a democrat. He is the only member of the senate whose seat remained unchanged. He still is in the darkest corner of the senate chamber—the extremity of the strip. There are eleven democratic representatives and nine senators.

MANY SURPRISES MADE

Indiana and Purdue Have Both Received Their Surprise Defeats, But May Yet Win Out

By HEZE ODARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Jan. 14.—It would appear as if every college and high school basketball team in the state would be in action this week. Already there have been numerous surprises and upsets in form shown by some teams.

Early this season, the indications were that Indiana and Purdue would be the big noises in basketball in Indiana, and that the teams had a chance to take a high rank among the conference college fives. They may still lead in the conference, but both teams have had their surprise defeats.

Indiana in games where its teams outclassed its opponents appeared to be world beaters, but it was a different story when the Bloomington team met the all-star aggregation of the merchants Heat and Light Co. Outclassed and outplayed, Indiana looked like a weak team.

But Indiana is not a weak college team. No college five in the country could have defeated the team that Indiana met in Indianapolis a week ago. From now on Indiana's attention is devoted to its important Big Ten Conference games. Last Saturday Indiana opened its conference season with Ohio State at Columbus and Monday, January 10, met Michigan. Northwestern will open the conference college season in Bloomington January 17. On January 15, Northwestern is scheduled to meet Purdue at Lafayette.

In speaking of strong teams among the colleges, it would be well for the basketball fans to keep their eyes on Coach Vaughan's Wabash College five, which has been going and Coach Buss' Tigers, which have already a long string of victories. DePauw and Earlham meet today at West teams in history.

Wabash met Purdue January 11. After returning from a trip to Illinois, the Little Giants are hitting their stride. A game of exceptional interest is to be played January 18 at Crawfordsville when the two old rivals—Wabash and DePauw—meet. DePauw and Earlham meet today at Greencastle.

Notre Dame's schedule called for two games during this week.

PURCHASE NEW UNIFORMS

Knights of Pythias to Appear For First Time Monday Night

The Knights of Pythias will appear Monday night following the business session of the lodge, in their new basketball uniforms which were purchased this week in Indianapolis. The suits are said to be classy, but the color and description is being withheld until the team makes their appearance. The K. of P. lodge has several games scheduled and will play the Martin family team on the Modern Appliance floor on the night of January 27.

A large attendance is desired at the lodge Monday night, so that two strong teams can be picked to play a game.

RALEIGH TAKES A FAST ONE

Defeats Webb Team Friday Night—Light Plant Installed

The Raleigh high school took a fast game last night from the Webb school on the floor at Webb, the final count being 21 to 11. It was the first night game on the Webb floor, as an electric light plant was installed yesterday. Webb was able to throw only one field goal in the last half. Poor for Raleigh made seven out of eight chances on foul goals.

A good game is expected tonight in the new gymnasium at Raleigh when the Fairview high school will meet the Raleigh team. The Raleigh team so far has not lost a game on their home floor, and the game will be a thriller tonight, from all indications.

MILROY DROPS A COMEBACK GAME

Braves the Small Pox Situation and Greensburg Turns The Tide in Last Half

SCORE ENDED 23 TO 22

Tree City Team Stages Comeback After Milroy Goes Big at The Start of The Game

After Rushville had cancelled the game with Greensburg, the Milroy high school stepped in and decided that they would take a chance with the small pox situation, and went to that city last night to play Greensburg, and the game resulted in a victory for Greensburg, 23 to 22.

Milroy sent their second string men to Westport in place of the first team, and the second team won out 22 to 10.

Milroy started off in a rush last night against the Tree City team, and within ten minutes had run the score up to 15 points, holding Greensburg to a lone marker.

Then Greensburg jumped into the game and staged a rally, and the first half ended with Milroy at 16 and Greensburg at 9 points. In the second half Greensburg came back strong and gradually their side of the score climbed up, and the game was tied at 18 points.

With the score tied, Greensburg then took the lead and Milroy never went ahead of them again, and the score ended with Greensburg, one point ahead. Only two weeks ago a thriller was staged, between these two teams, when Milroy won out by two points, 28 to 26.

B. B. Evans acted as referee and Case of Columbus acted as umpire. Evans acted as referee for the Rushville-Milroy game here, and was not very well thought of by the Milroy fans, but word from Greensburg today stated that he handled the game in the best of fashion.

CARTHAGE VARSITY RESTS FOR TONIGHT

Second Team is Sent to Cambridge City Friday Night For Game, and Loses, 46 to 5

CURTAIN RAISER TONIGHT

The Carthage high school basketball team took a rest last night, and did not go over to Cambridge City, but sent the second team in its place where they were defeated 46 to 5. The Carthage team will come here tonight for a game with the local high school, and had they played in Cambridge City last night, it would have meant three games this week.

Carthage will bring a big delegation with them, according to word received today from that place. The Carthage team is fully rested since their game with Connersville on Wednesday night, in which they won out over the Fayette team, and the game tonight may be expected to be a thriller.

The preliminary game will be played between the second teams from the two schools, and this game also will be a good attraction. The curtain raiser will start promptly at 7:15. The local high school band and the rooters gang will be on hand early to take part in the contest.

SHELBYVILLE WINS

Shelbyville, Ind., Jan. 15.—Shelbyville defeated Franklin here last night for the first time in four years in a hard-fought game, 25 to 18. The game was rough from the start, with the locals holding a slight edge at half time, 12 to 7. Richardson, Shelbyville forward, accounted for 15 points, and Vandiver of the visitors tossed 14 points.

BUTLER BEATS ROSE POLY

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 15.—Hooker ran wild on the Butler court last night and the Pagemen presented Rose Poly with the short side of a 39-18 count. Hooker tossed ten baskets from the field and five from the foul, accounting for seven more points than the entire Engineer team. Rose hopped into the lead and scored three points before Butler counted, but the Pagemen were not to be denied and came through with a flood of field goals that completely drowned the Rose score. By half time the Blue and White led, 21 to 10.

FAIRVIEW IS DEFEATED

The Manilla high school took the second game of the season from the Fairview high school at Manilla last night, when the up county team lost 35 to 19. Peters, lanky center for Fairview was guarded closely throughout the game and the team was lost on the strange cement floor which seemed to be slick with moisture. Manilla kept a comfortable lead at all times and Fairview did not prove dangerous.

LEWISVILLE WINS

The Lewisville independent basketball team defeated the Carthage independent five at Lewisville Friday night, 32 to 18. The score at the end of the first half was 13 to 9 in Carthage's favor, and the home team came back strong in the last frame.

CHALMERS

"Will it Perform as well as the Chalmers?"

This question was asked recently by a Chalmers owner, which shows the standard by which many men judge the merits of a motor car. It indicates the position this car holds in the personal transportation of America.

Right to be considered a model is hard won. Only through service has the Chalmers earned its right.

Just as the Chalmers cars are the standard in many sections of the country, there are Chalmers cars in all sections, running under all conditions.

Have you given consideration to the number of men in your community with whom the chalmers are the standard car?

SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the D. A. R. will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. D. Case in North Main street. A full attendance is desired.

The Pythian Sisters will meet in the parlors of the K. of P. hall at eight o'clock Monday evening. A good attendance is urged as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stiers were host and hostess for an informal party last evening at their home in North Perkins street, when ten couples enjoyed a pitch-in supper and card party at their home. Following the delicious supper the remainder of the evening was spent in playing Five Hundred.

Through an oversight of the press correspondent of the Woman's Relief Corps, the name of one of the officers elected for the coming year was omitted, that of Mrs. Ida Lee, who was chosen as musician for the corps.

Mrs. Harriet Plough entertained the members of the Thimble Club yesterday at her home in North Main with a prettily appointed one o'clock luncheon. The remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed with an informal social party. Among those present were Mrs. J. Gould Drum, of Miles City, Montana and Miss Helen Smith of Crawfordsville.

The Monday Circle will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Vern Norris in West Second street instead of with Mrs. Clara Lambert as scheduled. The club will continue their studies in South America and Mrs. Norris will prepare a paper on "Paraguay and Uruguay", and Mrs. Ione Abercrombie will give a book review of "El Supremo". All members of the club are urged to be present.

Theodore Heeb of this city attended an elegant dinner party Sunday at the home of William Heeb, in Connersville honoring the Connersville man's eighty-fifth birthday anniversary. Only immediate relatives of the honored guest were present for the affair. Toasts were given by Mrs. E. J. Schlichte, Fred Hackman, Louis Heeb, Jr., all of Connersville, and by Theodore Heeb of this city.

The Rebekah Crochet club was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bert Mattox in East Fifth street. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Minnie Moore, Mrs. Walter Perkins and Miss Nellie Morgan. Following an interesting program a business session was held, during which officers were elected. Mrs. Nellie Sweet was elected president; Mrs. Minnie Moore, vice president, and Mrs. Carrie Lucas, secretary treasurer. During the social hour at the close of the business meeting dainty refreshments were served. Twenty-three members and seven visitors were present for the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Megee and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frazee were hosts and hostesses for the ladies of the Happy-Go-Lucky club, their husbands, and other invited guests, last evening at the home of the latter in North Harrison street. A prettily appointed six o'clock dinner was served to the guests present. The dining table was centered with a beautiful bouquet of organ blossoms and foliage sent to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frazee by Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Frazee who are spending the winter at Long Beach, California.

Following the dinner an entertaining musical program was given by Mrs. George Hogsett, Mrs. Walter E. Smith and Miss Florence Fleehart. The program consisted of vocal and piano selections by Mrs. Hogsett and violin selections by Mrs. Smith and Miss Fleehart.

The American Literary Club held a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Spradling in West Second street. Mrs. Emmett Fegley was the assisting hostess. During the program given Mrs. C. S. Hester read an excellent paper on "Historical Story of 141 Years Ago."

A business meeting was held following the program during which officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Will Morgan, president; Mrs. P. H. Chadwick, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Clifford, secretary; Mrs. C. S. Hester, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ed Spradling, treasurer.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be held February 11 at the home of Mrs. P. H. Chadwick. Mrs. Will Morgan will be the assisting hostess.

Mystery Play at Princess

J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Brunton Production, "The House of Whispers," a gripping mystery play by the well-known novelist and playwright, William Johnston, has been released by W. W. Hodgkinson and will be shown today at the Princess Theatre.

"The House of Whispers," is undoubtedly one of the finest pictures Kerrigan has produced in years and is excellently adapted to his virile, romantic type. He is seen in the role of an adventure loving young clubman who undertakes to solve a baffling mystery which surrounds "The House of Whispers," an exclusive apartment house.

An ingenious crook has built "The House of Whispers" and honeycombed it with secret passageways, thus enabling him to rob the apartments of his tenants at leisure. With

DELPHI BOY IS NEW STATE POTATO KING

Homer Crandall of Mt. Summit, Henry County, is Declared Champion Junior Corn Grower

ANNOUNCEMENT AT PURDUE

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 15.—John Greenwalt, 16 years old of Delphi, is the champion boy potato grower of Indiana, and Homer Crandall, also 16, of Mt. Summit, Henry county, is the champion junior corn grower of the state. Announcement of these winners was made Friday at Purdue university at the closing session of the farmers' short course.

Both boys won honors in their sections, into which the state had been divided for the contest and the corn and potato shows, and then defeated their several competitors in the state.

Crandall's closest competitor was Dorothy May Baker, of Lyons, Greene county, daughter of the winner of the five-acre corn growing contest the last two years. Her yield was 143.5 bushels on the one-acre plot, while that of Crandall's was a little more than a bushel under it. However, his cost of production was lower, and his sample of corn sent to the state show scored higher. The differences on these points were enough to more than offset her slight advantage in yield. The Baker girl, last year, produced 138 bushels on one acre and 113 the year before.

the aid of a beautiful girl, Spalding discovers the secret of the passageways and exposes the criminal.

Kerrigan is supported in this picture by an unusually brilliant cast. Fritzi Brunette, who has played opposite the star in many of his successes of the past year, is again seen in the leading feminine role. Direction is by Ernest C. Ward and the play was adapted to the screen by Jack Cunningham.

Greencastle Man is Indicted by Grand Jury For Wounding Miss Hilda Varney

RUSH COUNTY BOY WITH HER

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 15.—The Putnam county grand jury returned an indictment last night against William P. Sackett, charging him with assault with intent to kill, as the result of the shooting of Miss Hilda Varney, a sophomore student in DePauw university, on the night of Dec. 4.

Miss Varney and Mark Bills were standing in a driveway in the rear of the Sackett home about 10 o'clock on the night of Dec. 4, when Mr. Sackett returned from the postoffice. As he entered the house he said he thought some one was trying to steal his automobile. He procured the revolver and fired from the porch. The bullet struck Miss Varney in the shoulder, and for days her condition was serious. Miss Varney has practically fully recovered from the wound.

Sackett has long been prominently identified with business in this city. Until recently he operated a grocery here. He was formerly a school teacher near Cloverdale.

Mark Bills, the young man accompanying Miss Varney when she was shot, is a Rush county boy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zach Bills of near Raleigh and recently appeared here with a musical organization from Greencastle at a banquet given by the Tall Cedars.

Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Miller.

Lillian Polk of Cincinnati and Herbert Ball of this place were married recently at the former's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mattox and son Jack spent Sunday with William Delashmit and family, of Greencastle.

Miss Jennie May, formerly of this place, and Dareus Graham were married at Alberta, Canada, January 4.

Mrs. W. T. Vandament is ill at her home here.

Harry Schunemann is visiting relatives at Dublin.

Charles Ruby is visiting his brother, Leonard Ruby and family, at Newport News, Va.

EFFORT MADE TO SAVE PRIMARY LAW

Rush County People Watching With Interest Fight to Prevent Repeal
of State Measure

DETERMINED BATTLE IS ON.

Administration Measure in Keeping
With Declaration to Eliminate
Features of Law

Many local people who have their own ideas about the value of the direct primary law are watching the fighting that is in progress in the state legislature between one group that wishes to curtail the law and another which would extend the primary system. The administration bill to eliminate the selection of some candidates by direct vote is being prepared. Sen. John S. Allredge of Anderson, has introduced a bill to extend the system.

The administration bill will preserve the primary system for the selection of city, township and county officers and for the naming of precinct committeemen and delegates to state and congressional conventions, but would do away with the primary as it applies to governor, United States senator and delegates to national conventions.

The Allredge plan calls for the following changes:

1. Extending the direct primary system to all state offices.
2. Abolishment of the presidential preference primary.
3. Selection of candidates by a plurality vote instead of a majority vote.
4. Limiting campaign expenses for state candidates and candidate for United States senator to $3,500. The penalty for spending more is to forfeit the nomination.

Under the present primary law the nominees for governor and United States senator are selected at a statewide primary while other state officials are nominated by convention. The Allredge bill, therefore, calls for the nomination, by direct primary of Lieutenant governor, auditor of state, secretary of state, treasurer of state, superintendent of public instruction, attorney general, clerk of the supreme court, reporter of the supreme court and judges of the Supreme and Appellate courts.

The primary law requires the successful candidate to obtain a majority of votes cast. In event no candidate receives a majority, the matter is placed before the state convention. Senator Allredge's bill proposed that a plurality vote will be sufficient to nominate.

No change is proposed in the method of selecting presidential electors and delegates to the national conventions. These are now chosen by the delegates to the state convention in district meetings the day preceding the convention, with the exception of the delegates and electors at large, who are chosen by the convention.

The proposed amendment designed to limit expenditures proposes, "that nothing in this act shall be taken or construed to prohibit the chairman of the state central committee of the state, or the chairman of any county, city or town central committee, of any political party from soliciting contributions for campaign purposes, which contributions, however, shall be all expended with and subject to the provisions and restrictions of this act, and provided further that such contributions shall not be solicited from any candidate for office, in the state of Indiana, or any private corporation; provided further that the payments, expenditures, promises and liabilities which any candidate for nomination in the general primary election may incur, directly or indirectly, under this or the preceding section, in conducting any primary election campaign shall not exceed in the aggregate $3,500, and any candidate who shall have received a plurality of the votes cast in the primary for the office for which he was a candidate, but whose payments, expenditures, promises and liabilities directly or indirectly incurred shall ipso facto forfeit the nomination to which he otherwise would be entitled and the candidate who shall have received the next highest vote, if the aggregate expenditures, payments liabilities incurred shall not have exceeded $3,500 shall be declared the nominee."

In event all the candidates violate the law by spending more than $3,500 each they shall all be ineligible for the nomination and an appointment shall be made by the state central committee.
